Plans by Pilots, for Pilots

You always have safety in mind while flying. ALPA offers life insurance products designed to provide a safety net for your loved ones because those you love on the ground need protection, too. As a pilot, you may put off getting life insurance because of the sensitivity of taking a health exam. Or you may think life insurance through your employer is enough. But when you total all the future needs of your dependents beyond final costs and expenses (think about college, mortgage, everyday living expenses), it can really add up. That's why ALPA offers a line of high-quality, cost-effective life insurance products designed to meet your specific needs as an airline pilot.

Now's the Time to Act

There's never been a better time to add or increase coverage. Life insurance is not only a tool to help protect loved ones; it can also be a sound financial planning vehicle.

Eligibility—Who Can Apply?

You are an "eligible member" and may apply for coverage if you are a member of Air Line Pilots Association, International in good standing and are considered in one of the following membership classes:

- Apprentice member
- Executive member
- Reactivated member
- Active member
- Inactive participant member

Plans That Can Fit Your Needs

ALPA offers three "term" life insurance products, which provide life insurance coverage for a specified period of time—Group Term, 10-Year Level Term, and 20-Year Level Term. You or your spouse may enroll in each of these plans for a combined total amount of life insurance of up to $1,750,000¹ in $50,000 increments.

Group Term Life

Purchase an amount of Group Term Life insurance coverage for an annual "term," at a group premium rate that increases as you age (the plan uses 5-year age bands). Beginning at age 65, a reduction formula will apply to you or your spouse's coverage amount.¹

Guaranteed-Issue Coverage for Active, Apprentice, and Reactivated Members

Active members may elect up to $500,000 of annual renewable term coverage without medical evidence of insurability. Qualified applicants must meet the following criteria:

- Be a member in good standing and employed by an ALPA member airline.
- Hold a valid FAA medical certification to fly.
- Confirm, at time of enrollment, that your health status has not changed since your last FAA physical exam.
- Be able to perform normal activities at the time of the offer (and be performing your normal activities for coverage to become effective).

Apprentice Members

If you are a first-time apprentice member, you may opt in to the Group Term Life plan at the $50,000 benefit level. This coverage is provided at no cost to you during your first 12 months of employment. Additional coverage can be purchased.

New-Hire Pilots (Apprentice or Reactivated Members)

During the first 12 months of new-hire status, ALPA will contribute 75 percent of the premium due for any amount of member coverage elected. During months 13–24 from date of hire, ALPA will contribute 50 percent of the premium due for any amount of member coverage elected. After 24 months from your date of hire, you will be responsible for 100 percent of the premium due. ALPA does not contribute to dependent coverage premium.

Guaranteed-Issue Coverage for Active Member's Dependents

The spouse of any active ALPA member may elect up to $50,000 of annual renewable term coverage without evidence of insurability. To qualify for guaranteed coverage, your spouse must confirm at time of enrollment that he/she is not confined

- Service in the armed forces of any country or international authority. However, service in reserve forces does not constitute service in the armed forces, unless in connection with such reserve service an individual is on active military duty as determined by the applicable military authority other than weekend or summer training. For purposes of this provision reserve forces are defined as reserve forces of any branch of the military of the United States or of any other country or international authority, including but not limited to the National Guard of the United States or the national guard of any other country;
