

2016 ALPA-PAC Roll of Distinction

From the President

In 2016, the Air Line Pilots Association Political Action Committee (ALPA-PAC) had its best year ever, raising more than $1.95 million from 11,020 ALPA members. These pilots saw the importance of having a political voice in Washington, D.C., and their voluntary contributions to ALPA-PAC helped educate decision-makers from across the political spectrum. ALPA-PAC continues to set the standard for bipartisanship in the labor community, with 48 percent of our contributions going to Republicans and 52 percent going to Democrats. We don't care what party a politician belongs to—we support those who've shown they'll support airline pilots.

As you've read throughout this issue of Air Line Pilot, there are many potential opportunities and threats to the livelihoods and careers of line pilots. ALPA-PAC is the resource in our toolbox that we use to push our pilot-partisan message to influential decision-makers on Capitol Hill. When pilots support ALPA-PAC, they're supporting the future of our profession. On the following pages, you'll see the names of ALPA members who made voluntary contributions of at least $100 during 2016. We thank these pilots for their support to help move forward our pilot-partisan agenda on Capitol Hill.

Washington, D.C., has quite a few new faces this year, and we have lots of legislative work to do. Despite our best efforts, the 114th Congress failed to pass the long-term FAA reauthorization bill for which ALPA advocated, instead extending the current FAA bill through September 2017. The victories we achieved in 2016 will be our starting point with the new 115th Congress, as we continue our efforts to make the forthcoming FAA reauthorization even more pilot partisan. Norwegian Air International remains one of our top priorities, as we've filed a lawsuit in federal court to overturn the Obama administration's decision to grant the airline a foreign air carrier permit and continue to pressure President Trump to reverse the decision to protect the jobs of ALPA pilots and other U.S. aviation workers. ALPA is also continuing its efforts to educate politicians and the public on the threat posed by undeclared dangerous goods shipped on board aircraft.

These issues, and many others, will keep us busy for the next year and make the outreach and education efforts of ALPA-PAC even more essential.
